

Store Snacks at Kid Level

“Until very recently, the open shelving in our kitchen was just for my husband and me,” explains Harris. “But Marlowe is really into preparing his own food, and now that he’s 9, he just climbs up on the counter to get what he needs.”

Even so, the stylist keeps a collection of Danish melamine (aka unbreakable) dishes in an easily accessible drawer, while, during the school year, granola bars, fruit leathers, and cereal live on lower pantry shelves. “I put a Muji drawer in there for chips and crackers,” she says, “and we keep after-school snacks in a divided office supply tray.”

“I like to collect mini jars to fill with hot sauce or jam. I have only three of them so far, but they are really funny.”
—Marlowe

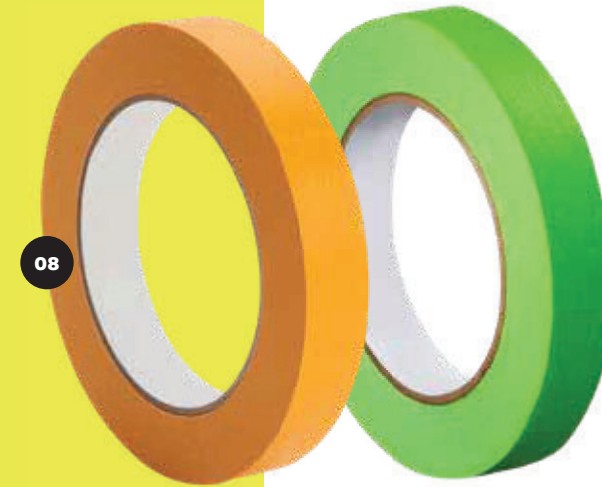

Marlowe: Randi Brookman Harris

A slim-profile step stool helps Marlowe, a budding chef, reach the dishes and utensils he needs. His current specialty: tortilla “crepes” filled with whipped cream, sliced fruit, cinnamon, and honey.

From top: Astro Mobile Light No. 2 $3,250 andrewneyer.com; Saarinen Dining Table $4,417 dwr.com; Shell Chairs by Case Study $345 each modernica.net; About a Stool 38 $245 each hay.com; Artist’s Block Set $115 jaysonhome.com; Menorah by Josh Owen $125 areaware.com; Pink Mug $40 ankceramics.com; Cocotte Pot by Staub x Food 52 from $299 food52.com.

GET THE LOOK

Editors’ Pick

Counter Culture

1. Boston Bottle Hand-Turned Jars and Lids by Turnco Wood Goods from $29 food52.com
2. Bamboo Bento Lunch Box $22 by ekobo.us
3. Schale Glass Case $18 kinto-usa.com
4. Splatter 4-Piece Canister Set $71 crowcanyonhome.com
5. Roll Top Bread Box by Brabantia $55 westelm.com
6. Bento Snack Boxes $30 each takenaka-global.com
7. Smarra Box with Lid $15 ikea.com
8. Masking Tape amazon.com

